Fact 1: Joint know-how on cancer control

Cancon is a joint action initiative, co-funded by participating institutes, organisations, universities and health care units, and the European Union.

- Started in 2014 and continues until 2017;
- at the moment there are 65 organisations and 25 countries (of which 23 are member states) involved in Cancon;
- helps member states to place cancer firmly on their national public health agendas; and
- is producing a Guide for improving the quality of comprehensive cancer control. Hundreds of cancer experts are working on this.

Fact 2: Patient-centred Guide

The main objective of Cancon is the European Guide on Quality Improvement in Comprehensive Cancer Control

The Guide is meant for

- governments,
- parliamentarians,
- health care providers and funders, and
- cancer care professionals at every level.

The Guide will be a coherent, patient-centred document, and key strategic tool for governments and policy makers.

Cancon will improve national situations by applying and adapting recommendations in the Guide.

Fact 3: Cancon has nine work packages

Work packages 1, 2 and 3 deal with coordination (leader: Slovenia), dissemination (Finland) and evaluation (Romania).

They help to facilitate six work packages which focus on developing the content of cancer control.

The six core work packages:

- 4 Guide coordination (Belgium)
- 5 Member state platform (Italy)
- 6 Integrated cancer control (Italy)
- 7 Community-level cancer care (Slovenia)
- 8 Survivorship and rehabilitation (France)
- 9 Screening (Finland)

Fact 4: Five policy papers position cancer control into planning processes

The five topics and their leaders are:

1. A public health genomics approach in oncology, Marc Van den Bulcke,
2. Common objectives of national cancer plans (NCPs), Tit Albrecht,
3. Re-allocation of resources to more effective performance, Roberto Giuseppe Grilli,
4. Outcome of prevention, Giuseppe La Torre, and
5. Inequalities in cancer control, Rosana Peiró.

Fact 5: Cancon and Member States

- Giving and gaining information
- Strengthens cancer control networks in Europe
- Participation gives better possibilities to influence on the decision making in the EU
- Cancon influences on national level e.g.:
 - providing new knowledge on cancer care
 - helping to launch, develop and monitor national systems of cancer screening
 - promoting development of rehabilitation services and other support for survivorship in a patient-centered way
